Before STRINE, Chief Justice; SEITZ and TRAYNOR, Justices.

ORDER

This 7th day of February 2019, we affirm the judgment of the Court of Chancery on the basis of its opinion dated June 15, 2018.<sup>1</sup>

---

<sup>1</sup> Alarm.com Holdings, Inc. v. ABS Capital Partners Inc., 2018 WL 3006118 (Del. Ch. June 15, 2018). In addition to holding that “the facts alleged in the complaint do not support a reasonably conceivable inference of misappropriation,” the Court of Chancery concluded that the Delaware Uniform Trade Secrets Act preempted Alarm.com’s common law claim for misappropriation of confidential information. Id. at *1. Because its holding that the complaint did not plead facts supporting a rational inference of misuse of either a trade secret or information that could be considered “confidential” was justified and provides a basis for dismissal of the entire complaint, we do not need to, and therefore do not, reach the preemption question.

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED that the judgment of the Court of Chancery is hereby AFFIRMED.

BY THE COURT:
